

LEADERSHIP STUDIES MINOR (LDAG)

The undergraduate Minor in Leadership Studies (LDAG) provides students with formal instruction in leadership theory and practices necessary to be successful leaders wherever life takes them. The 15-hour online curriculum prepares students to be effective industry, community, and organizational leaders with the flexibility of a distance education setting. Students explore leadership concepts, develop an awareness of personal leadership characteristics, and apply leadership theories and models to future professional experiences and context. The coursework includes nine credits of foundational leadership concepts, and six credits of advanced leadership concepts.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

1. Students are encouraged to have completed or be currently enrolled in ALED 202.
2. Students must have a cumulative 2.5 GPR or higher and be in good standing with the university
3. Students must have completed 75 hours or less at time of application.
4. Students must have a declared major.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Courses must be passed with a C or higher and during final course of the minor, a portfolio must be completed.

Required Foundational Courses (9 credits)

- ALED 202—Introduction to Leadership
- ALED 301—Personal Leadership Education
- ALED 340—Survey of Leadership Theory

Required Advanced Courses (6 credits)

- ALED 424—Applied Ethics in Leadership
- ALED 440—Leading Change

Want to Learn More...?

Dr. Allison Dunn
Leadership Studies Minor Advisor
AGLS 268
aldunn@tamu.edu

TEXAS A&M UNIVERSITY

Agricultural Leadership,
Education & Communications